OVERVIEW

Learon John Bird is both a Chartered Financial Analyst® and an attorney. He has spent the early part of his career handling bankruptcy cases in the Third Circuit. Learon has also testified as an expert witness in FINRA arbitration proceedings. His diverse experience also extends to commercial bankruptcy, restructurings, insolvencies, liquidations, commercial litigation and preference, and fraudulent conveyance litigation matters.

Learon's wide range of clients, which has included debtors, creditors' committees, trustees, unsecured creditors, financial institutions, purchasers and litigants in federal and state courts, have relied on his strategic counsel to help navigate the complex issues and sensitivities surrounding bankruptcy cases.

Among the matters he has handled, Learon has served as:

- Debtor's Delaware counsel in the iGPS bankruptcy
- Debtors' counsel in the Coda Automotive bankruptcy (7 debtors).
- Counsel to numerous preference defendants in cases including, but not limited to, DBSI, Buffets, NewPage, Fujitsu, WL Homes, and DHP Holdings.
- Counsel to the Litigation Trust in the CRC Parent Corporation bankruptcy.

Learon teaches courses on Negotiations and Alternative Dispute Resolution and Business Associations for the University of Oregon School of Law and Lewis & Clark Law School.

On Saturdays you can find Learon going in circles at the Oaks Park roller rink with his daughters in the morning and working on either his house or the 1973 MG in his garage in the evening.
