

Business

OVERVIEW

Our deep bench of business attorneys support large and small businesses across a wide variety of industries. Our clients rely on our experienced business attorneys to advise them at every stage of their growth and development—from start-up through sale or other business transitions—on a wide range of transactions. Whether you're buying, selling, recapitalizing, or restructuring your business, our business team helps clients navigate contracts, agreements, and negotiations.

We routinely advise businesses on their day-to-day issues, including contract negotiations, handling licenses and intellectual property rights, crafting personnel strategies, ensuring employment-related compliance, and negotiating settlement of commercial litigation and collections matters. We work collaboratively with our clients to provide creative solutions to the myriad of legal and regulatory challenges businesses face every day.